PORK LOIN BRAISED WITH MUSHROOMS & WINE

INGREDIENTS

- 1 (2-pound) boneless center-cut pork loin, tied with kitchen twine
- 1 1/2 teaspoons coarse sea salt
- 1/2 teaspoon black pepper
- 3 tablespoons olive oil
- 1 pound white button mushrooms, quartered
- 8 small white spring onions, trimmed, white parts only
- 3 large garlic cloves, smashed
- 1/2 cup Corsican Muscat wine substitute Moscato d'Asti
- 1 cup lower-sodium chicken stock
- 3 rosemary sprigs
- 6 thyme sprigs
- 8 (3-inch) orange peel strips
- Cooked polenta, for serving

DIRECTIONS

Preheat oven to 400°F. Sprinkle pork evenly with salt and pepper. Heat oil in a large ovenproof skillet or Dutch oven over medium-high.

Add pork to pan; cook over medium-high, undisturbed, until golden brown on one side. Turn pork. Repeat until each side is browned. Remove pork from skillet, and set aside.

Add mushrooms, onions, and garlic to pan; cook over medium-high, stirring often, until liquid from mushrooms has evaporated. Add wine; cook, scraping up browned bits from bottom of pan, until wine is reduced by half. Add stock, rosemary, and thyme; cook, undisturbed, 3 minutes. Return pork to pan. Cover, transfer to preheated oven, and roast until a thermometer inserted in thickest portion of meat registers 130°F. Remove from oven.

Transfer pork to a cutting board; let rest 5 minutes. Meanwhile, add orange peel strips to mushroom mixture in pan. Bring to a boil over medium-high heat until sauce has slightly thickened. Discard orange peel strips, rosemary, and thyme.

Remove twine. Slice pork against the grain.
